

Soulfood

a woodland weekend of songs & stories

2-4 February 2024

Escape from the city and immerse yourself in songs and stories and a beautiful 70 acre woodland retreat.

A chance to reconnect with nature, unwind, and nourish the soul with glorious harmonies, enchanting stories, delicious, home-cooked food in a beautiful woodland. We will gather just after Imbolc to mark the end of the depths of winter and the return of the spring.

What's included?

- 2 days of singing/vocal workshops
- Story-telling sessions
- 2 nights' accommodation
- Delicious, home-cooked meals from Friday evening - Sunday lunch
- Teas, coffees, flapjacks and other sweet treats

Arrivals from 4.30pm Friday 2 Feb. Departures from 2.30pm Sunday 4 Feb.

Location

Hazel Hill Wood, East Grimstead, nr Salisbury.

Nearest train: Salisbury (7 miles) or Dean (4 miles)

Hazel Hill Wood is an ancient 70 acre conservation woodland near Salisbury. Its facilities include an indoor group room (fully wheelchair accessible) and large kitchen, heated bedrooms, hot showers and compost loos, along with beautiful outside spaces.

NB: The woodland is off-grid with limited electricity, limited phone signal and no wifi, offering a perfect chance to switch off from daily life and live sustainably.

A Note About the Forest Arc

There are a total of 24 places available on this weekend. 6 of these are in the Forest Arc which has had on and off issues with heating and water in recent months. There is a small chance that an emergency situation might come up at short notice, rendering this building out of use. I will allocate the first 18 bookers into the guaranteed accommodation, and the last 6 into the Arc. If for any reason this building becomes unavailable at short notice and you have been allocated a place in it, I'll be in touch to discuss alternative options, or a full refund, as you prefer.
